FIVE CENTS

—One Fueling Will Last An Entire War—

ORDER ATOM-CARRIER

U. S. WARSHIP WILL BE LARGEST EVER BUILT

...Navy Has Plans For Complete Nuclear-Driven Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Friday ordered a start on construction of its first atomic-powered carrier, expected to be able to fight through an entire war without refueling.

The giant vessel, largest warship ever built, will be the longest strider yet taken toward building a whole nuclear-driven fleet.

The warship, which will cost more than 314 million dollars and take four years to build, will be constructed at the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding & Drydock Co.

The Navy won final approval for the carrier at the current session of Congress over strong objections that so large a ship would be too easy to find and destroy in this age of supersonic planes and missiles.

Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, head of the Navy atomic program, said last spring the aim was to power the carrier with eight reactors containing enough fuel to drive the ship for five years.

"Ultimately," he said, "you might get a reactor which would last the life of the ship. The goal now is to design a reactor which will last for a war. I think we have come pretty close to that."

The decision to give the coveted job of constructing the as yet unnamed ship to the Virginia yard topped a list of new construction and conversion assignments based on money provided in the budget for this fiscal year. The Navy assigned building yards for three additional atomic powered submarines, three frigates and one amphibious assault ship and will soon award contracts for one additional nuclear submarine, four frigates and five destroyers.

The new carrier will displace from 75,000 to 85,000 tons and have an over-all length of 1,088 feet, 42 feet longer than the flightdeck of the Saratoga and Ranger carriers of the Forrestal class.

Three of the 60,000-ton Forrestals are already operating with the fleet and three others are building.

The mammoth new carrier will be the second nuclear-powered surface warship started by the U.S. Navy. Preliminary work is already under way on the 14,000-ton cruiser Long Beach at the Quincy, Mass., yards of the Bethlehem Steel Co.

The Long Beach, in addition to being atomic-powered, will be the first surface warship designed from the outset to carry an all-guided missile armament. This cruiser's keel is scheduled to be laid next April and the ship is expected to join the fleet in October, 1960.

—CIVIL RIGHTS—

Both Parties Predict 'OK'

Passage Before Adjournment Seen; Compromise Jelling

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise civil rights bill was jelling in Congress Friday, with leaders of both parties predicting it would be passed before adjournment. If the House and Senate can come to terms on the legislation Congress may be able to quit by the end of the month.

Both House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Senate minority leader Knowland (R-Calif.) expressed confidence that a compromise will be worked out and Congress will pass its first civil rights legislation in more than 80 years.

With Republicans apparently ready to begin a strategic retreat from the Eisenhower administration's more sweeping civil rights program, Rep. Allen (R-Ill.) told newsmen:

"I think things have been pretty well ironed out, and I think we will adjourn with a bill."

House minority leader Martin (R-Mass.) approached the question more obliquely.

"Workable"

"We are open minded," he said after a GOP strategy session. "We want a workable bill as quickly as possible."

Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) is pushing for House acceptance of the Senate's version of the bill, with a change to limit its jury trial section to voting rights cases. The amendment now applies to almost all kinds of criminal contempt proceedings in injunction cases. It has been called a threat to the federal judicial system by Eisenhower.

But Martin said: "We won't take the Celler amendment, period." "Even as a last resort, sir?" a reporter asked. "I wouldn't say that," the Republican leader replied. "I don't think it'll come to that."

2-Year Study

Both the Senate and House versions of civil rights legislation provide for establishing a civil rights division in the Justice Department and setting up a bipartisan commission to make a two-year study of civil rights problems.

The bill the House passed provides that the Attorney General can apply for federal court injunctions to halt all kinds of civil rights violations, not just voting rights violations. Persons disregarding the injunctions would be jailed by the judge for contempt, without jury trials. The House bill is in line with the program presented by the administration.

The Senate bill limits the injunction provisions to voting rights cases and further stipulates that charges of criminal contempt must be tried by juries—not just in civil rights disputes but in a wide range of legal cases. Civil contempt cases—designed to induce compliance rather than to punish—still would be handled without juries.

YOUTH HITS ELECTRIC FENCE, DIES

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—George Schneider, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Schneider, Ogallala, was killed Friday afternoon when he came in contact with an electric fence surrounding a 200-acre corn field on a farm operated by Le Moine Meyer one half mile west of here.

Ogallala police said the fence was connected to a power line with a transformer. They said the ground was wet.

Police said the youth was found by Meyer a few minutes after he came in contact with the fence. Meyer applied artificial respiration and told companions of Schneider to call the Ogallala Fire Department.

Police said fire department members worked on the boy 15 minutes after a doctor pronounced him dead.

When Meyer's father, Henry, learned of the accident, he suffered a heart attack, police said.

SHOT AFTER CHASE

A girl identified by police as Shirley A. Dickel, 17, of Lancaster, Pa., receives emergency treatment in Baltimore from a gunshot wound in her shoulder. A motorcycle policeman shot her after a wild chase from the city's outskirts to the downtown section. One radar check point along the way clocked her speed "in excess of 105 m.p.h." She said she was running away from home to Miami because her father scolded her. (AP Wirephoto)

Crops Get Big Boost

Recent Rains At Right Time

Corn and sorghums were greatly benefited by the new rainfall in Nebraska, according to county and state agricultural officials, and the moisture also helped ready the soil for fall planting.

Kenneth Logan of the state-federal division of agricultural statistics said the rain "is going to mean a great deal, especially to the southeast corner of the state."

Senators Leave In A-Plants

Hallam Site Among Those In Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday night passed a 389 million dollar atomic energy authorization bill after beating back all administration efforts to knock out a program of government-built atomic power plants.

The Consumers Public Power District atom-power plant to be constructed at Hallam, Neb., is one of the projects covered by the bill.

The measure, passed by voice vote after nine hours of debate, now goes to conference with the House, which passed it a week ago in a form much closer to the

'NO CHANGE,' —SCHACHT

Ray Schacht, general manager of Consumers, said in Columbus Friday night that no matter which bill is finally accepted it "presumably would not change amount of capital funds to be put into the project by Consumers."

The difference, he explained, would be in the operating set-up after the plant is constructed, and might affect such matters as arrangements for paying for the heat produced by the plant. "No delay is foreseen," he said under either bill, as far as the schedule for construction of the plant is concerned.

recommendations of President Eisenhower.

Senate Democrats were joined by a handful of Republicans to defeat all of the amendments designed to put the measure into the shape desired by the administration. These were the key authorizations retained in the bill:

The Projects

1. 40 million dollars for construction of a natural uranium, gas-cooled reactor at the Arco, Idaho, AEC plant. This was retained by a 42-34 vote after a proposal to cut the figure down to $500,000 for design and engineering only was rejected 40-37.

2. 15 million dollars for construction of an experimental plutonium recycle reactor at the Hanford, Wash., AEC plant. This also was retained on the 42-34 vote.

3. Three million dollars for the design and engineering on a single or dual-purpose reactor to produce electricity and plutonium.

GREAT STORY, BUT T'AIN'T SO

It made a wonderful story, but honest, fellas, it was all a big mistake — sort of the woman who wasn't there.

That's what Lincoln police had to say about a story reported around the city Friday that a woman called to say she needed help and got it when police responded to pry her free from the phone booth in which she was stuck.

What actually happened, police report, was that when the summoned-aid arrived at the phone booth nobody was there. A hoax — you might say.

Schimmel Corp. Buys NE Corner 12th & L

...$115,000 For 'Investment'

The Schimmel Development Corporation has purchased the northeast corner of 12th and L for $115,000.

Schimmel interests now own three-quarters of the downtown block on which the Cornhusker Hotel is located.

Lancaster County Register of Deeds' records show the business property was purchased from Dr. John S. Welch of Rochester, Minn., as trustee.

An informed source said Dr. J. Stanley Welch trust interests. The senior Dr. Welch is a prominent Lincoln surgeon.

150 By 88

The new Schimmel acquisition includes three downtown business lots fronting 150 feet on L and 88 feet on 12th and excludes the Town House, an apartment building on 12th.

The transaction was handled by The First Trust Co., which represented both parties.

Two years ago the Schimmel interests acquired the southeast quarter of the Cornhusker Hotel block from Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Chevalier of Orlando, Fla., for a reported price of $237,500. This property, leased until 1959 to J. R. Foster, is occupied by General Tire Inc.

The Cornhusker Hotel and parking space occupies four lots at the northeast corner of the block.

The business property acquired from the Welch interest is presently occupied by the American Business garage, Factory Radio-TV Service, and Mapes Industries, Inc.

An 'Investment'

The spokesman noted that future planning for the Cornhusker Hotel included drive-in parking facilities for hotel guests.

Two business lots at the northwest corner of the Cornhusker block are owned by Bennett S. Martin.

The Schimmel acquisitions now extend 200 feet on M, 300 feet on 13th, 300 feet on L and 88 feet on 12th.

RAIN SEEN IN STATE'S WEST AREA

A few thundershowers predicted for the western part of Nebraska Saturday, but the state's crop prospects had already been enhanced by rains late Thursday and early Friday.

Six Nebraska towns reported precipitation of three inches or more. They were: Barneston, 3.11; Burning, 3.05; Fairbury, 3.72; Hebron, 3.40; Nelson, 3.75, and Sutton, 3.35 inches.

Near Grand Island rainfall ranged up to an unofficial five inches south of Wood River and Alda had 4.75. Wood River, south of Grand Island, carried water for the first time in weeks Friday but little flooding was reported.

Highs in the state Saturday were to be 78 to 88, compared with from a high of 81 at Chadron to Friday's readings that ranged 74 at Lincoln and Grand Island.

Ike Counts On Senate To Hike Foreign Aid

Knowland Considers Repair Job

... After House Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower turned to the Senate Friday for a repair job on his foreign aid bill, which was staggered by an $809-million-dollar cut made in the House Thursday night.

He spent an hour with Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's GOP leader, going over plans for getting some of the money back into the bill.

Afterward Knowland said he doubts whether the Senate will be able to restore the entire $809 million, but that he and the President hope to get back "a substantial part of the reductions made by the House."

He told reporters he would have to "explore further on a bipartisan basis" among his colleagues before making any estimate of the amount by which the Senate might raise the figures.

In the Senate, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) called for "realistic" treatment of foreign aid appropriations.

He said the House, in slashing so deeply, has disregarded the advice of Eisenhower, "one of the greatest military leaders of all time," as well as that of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the National Security Council.

The White House said only that "the President's position has been made very clear and congressional action has not yet been concluded." This came from James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary.

Plans Deadline For Widening Bridges Set

... Dead Man's Run

City deadlines for completion of plans and specifications work on widening of the city's bridges along Dead Man's Run were announced by Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

The city has had requests for speedy action in changing its bridges to allow for a Sanitary District 1 project to widen and straighten the channel which caused major flooding in July.

The plan schedule is designed to ready bridge specifications on the "down-stream" projects first so that bids can be let on those projects first, Erickson explained. Residents in the down-stream area near Walker Ave. appeared at public hearings of the City Council to urge work on that area first so that any further heavy rains would not aggravate flood conditions because of better drainage upstream.

Plans and specification completion schedule on city bridge widening is: 33rd and Baldwin on Sept. 16; Huntington on Oct. 7; 48th St. on Oct. 28; 52nd and Francis on Nov. 18; Holdrege on Dec. 9; Cotner Blvd on Dec. 30, and Vine on Jan. 20.

Bids will be let and construction undertaken in approximately that order, Erickson said.

Prankster

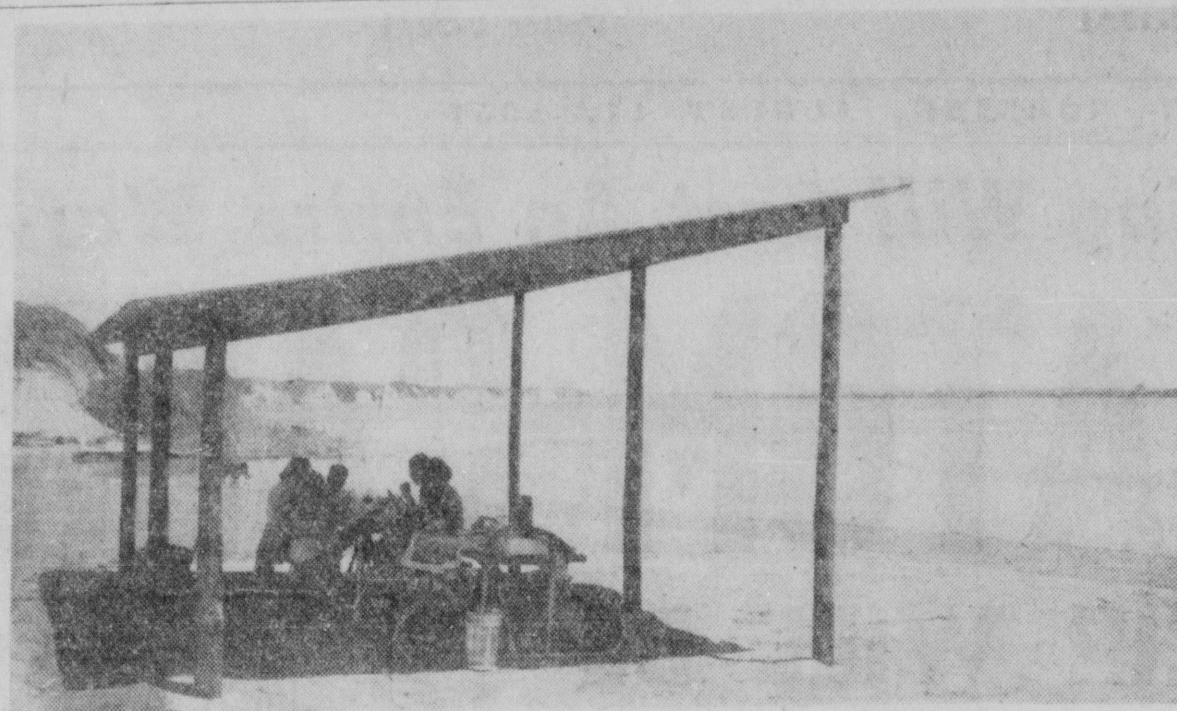

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police in suburban Greendale, who have been cracking down on speeders lately, were disturbed to discover that a prankster had taken down six speed signs on Highway 36.

A squad car crew searched along the highway but could find no trace of the signs. The officers went back to the police station to write a report. There they found the signs — neatly piled on a chair.

Chief Harold Pruett said no one had seen the prankster in the station because it was empty at the time. The only officers on duty were the squad car crew. The station was closed, but unlocked.

Fishing Boat Rescues Crashed Blimp's Crew

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Nine naval reservists told Friday of a harrowing night spent on storm-tossed life rafts in North Carolina's Pamlico Sound after their blimp crashed and sank during a severe thunderstorm.

Fishermen spotted wreckage of the blimp about 8 a.m. and found the men aboard two rafts. A 25-foot fishing craft towed the rafts to a Coast Guard station as a massive air and sea rescue effort was under way.

The reservists, members of a squadron en route from Glynnco, Ga., to Lakehurst, N.J., from a training cruise, were flown to the Norfolk Naval Air Station. None was injured.

They said the blimp ran into the thundersquall over Pamlico Sound, between North Carolina's mainland and outer banks. A rip in the fabric caused the blimp to lose pressure. It was forced into the water almost immediately.

Seven of the men boarded one raft and two the other. Earlier reports from the Coast Guard and the Navy here were that 16 men were aboard the blimp. The Naval Air Station at South Weymouth, Mass., said there were but nine men in the crew.

Lt. Cmdr. Ross M. Dempsey, Burlington, N.J., commander of the blimp, said storm-whipped waves poured over the rafts and the men had difficulty at times trying to stay close to the wrecked blimp. Only the nose of the craft showed above water when the fishermen spotted it.

'Never Scold A Child,' Adventists Are Told

Advice for Christian child raising was given to the 78th Annual Camp Meeting of Seventh-day Adventists Friday at Union College.

"Never scold a child," Archibald O. Dart, Washington, D. C., national home and parent director of the Adventists, told the assembly.

"When a parent scolds the child the youngster is confused. The child learns only when he is happy. The Christian parent uses only the best methods, and the best method is happiness, not glum attitudes, in the home," he explained.

The church and home counsel director said that "the field where the crop of peace grows is the happy home," and he deplored that "some persons spend more time in their businesses than they do in seeing that their homes are happy and that their children are growing up under a Christian influence."

Buying Better Books
In another address Friday evening the convention heard a report by J. T. Welch, Lincoln, Adventist publishing director for Nebraska, that "Nebraska is buying more character building books of a religious nature than ever before."

Last year Nebraska Adventist literature salesmen sold more than $70,000 in Christian publications throughout the state, he said.

During the same session, Dr. Walter R. Beach, Washington, D. C., world secretary of Adventists, presented a report of church literature sales in Iron Curtain countries. "In spite of all the forces of Communism," Beach said "sales of such Christian literature are growing daily. People are starving for the God of heaven and not earthly man-made gods."

Watson Denies Highway Talk With Governor

MITCHELL, Neb. (AP) — Dr. C. R. Watson, member of the State Highway Commission, said Friday night he had never talked with Gov. Anderson about the proposed diagonal southeast of Agate to link with Highway 27, thus abandoning part of Highway 29.

Dr. Watson owns land on Highway 27 and had a summer home on the ranch.

Dr. Watson's name had been brought up by a member of a western delegation that met with Anderson and State Engineer L. N. Ress to protest any change in Highway 29.

Watson replied that Dr. Watson had never spoke to him about it. Then he said that possibly Dr. Watson might wish to disqualify himself when the matter is voted on by the Highway Commission.

Dr. Watson said he had no comment to make on what was said at this time. (See story on Page 18.)

duce plutonium at Hanford. The full cost of this is expected to be around $5 million dollars.

4. A directive to AEC to build reactors for five municipal power groups and rural electric co-operatives, and make available to them steam based on the use of conventional fuels. This was retained in the bill by a separate 42-34 vote.

CPPD Plant Included

The CPPD Hallam plant comes under this provision of the bill. The estimated amount of assistance on the Nebraska project is $51,503,000.

Democrats contended the program of government-built reactors was essential to help the United States win the international race to achieve economic production of atomic power.

They denied that any question of public-versus-private power was involved, insisting that all the reactors in the bill were experimental.

Republicans, on the other hand, contended that this nation's atomic power program was going well, much better than Great Britain's or Russia's.

They argued that the effect of the bill was to put the government into the power business and scare off private capital in the field.

Hickenlooper's Move

The Senate's 42-34 vote refusing to strike out a section providing for construction by the AEC of experimental reactors for co-ops and public power bodies came on an amendment offered by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

After action on the authorization bill the Senate quickly passed by voice vote without debate another important atomic energy measure.

This would establish a system of government indemnity of up to $50 million dollars in the case of the explosion of an atomic power plant operated by a private company. The indemnity would be in addition to private insurance which the company could obtain.

Lieutenant Acquitted In Deaths

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — A young second lieutenant was acquitted Friday of four charges of negligent homicide in the firing range deaths of four enlisted men here June 22.

A few hours later, Army officials announced another officer, Lt. Col. Walter P. Berger, 41, Philadelphia, will go on trial next Thursday on four counts of negligent homicide and dereliction of duty in the same case.

The nine member Army court martial board returned a verdict of innocent for 2nd Lt. Rosser L. Moody Jr., Toano, Va., 20 minutes after final arguments were heard. The court martial opened Thursday.

Moody was accused of erroneously transposing firing data during a public artillery demonstration at Ft. Sill. Six to nine rounds of 4.2 inch mortar shells fell among a group of advancing infantrymen, killing four and injuring 13.

Moody admitted on the witness stand Thursday that he made a mistake in transcribing firing data during the firing demonstration.

In his final argument, Moody's defense counsel, 1st Lt. Gordon P. Ralph, maintained, however, that the negligence of Berger, not Moody, was the principal cause of the fatal accident.

"Colonel Berger took it upon himself to order the firing resumed and this caused the accident," Ralph said.

She is survived by her husband, Wallace, former Assistant Secretary of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and now secretary and manager of the Nebraska Reclamation Association; a son, Richard W., of Santa Barbara, Calif., a brother, Cecil C. Vesy, of Santa Monica, Calif., and one grandson.

revenue to build and maintain Nebraska's road system."

Bixler and Tews issued a joint statement explaining plans for the postcard poll and the effort to get petition signers to remove their names.

"Our investigation discloses that many people that sign petitions are doing this as a favor to a friend with the belief that it does not really make much difference," they stated.

"We are hopeful," the senators added, "that petition signers will withdraw their names from the petition by using the removal certificate form if they signed same without having full knowledge of the facts."

"The people certainly have a right to sign petitions. The people also have a right to withdraw their names in case they were not informed of the possible results of this petition drive," they added.

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, Farmers Union and the Nebraska Grange, along with the oil industry, are circulating petitions in the state to put the one cent gas tax issue on the 1958 general election ballot.

2 Possibilities

If the petitioners obtain 28,379 signatures by Sept. 20, they will get the question on the ballot. If they obtain 56,794 signatures by Sept. 20, they will succeed in getting the added gas tax suspended until the matter is decided by the voters.

To facilitate removal of names from the petitions, Tews and Bixler will circulate printed postcards, addressed to Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

The postcard says: "I, or we, of (blank) County, Nebraska, do hereby request that my name, or our names, be withdrawn from a petition that I, or we, signed to void the one cent gas tax (LB 375) as passed by the Legislature."

Space for signatures, dates and addresses are provided.

The public opinion postcard also to be distributed states:

"If the voters through signing a repeal petition should abolish the extra one cent gas tax needed to finance road building, which of the following methods of raising money would you choose to help pay for roads:

"1. Keep present 7 cents gas tax as passed by the Legislature.

"2. Keep 6 cents gas tax and raise additional money by:

"a. Establishing a motor vehicle stamp tax of $5 to $10 per vehicle.

"b. Increasing state property tax.

"c. Increasing license plate fee.

In a letter to "Automobile Owners", covering the postcards, Bixler and Tews said, "Let us not knowingly do something that can hurt our whole road building program or force a new type of tax."

The senators said that should the extra cent of gas tax be voided with the result the governor calls a special session of the Legislature, results of the postcard poll will be made available to the other members of the Legislature.

They suggested that persons "should talk with one of your county commissioners and your attorney before you sign the petition. Without proper roads your community and state will suffer. Transportation plays a big part in Nebraska's farm and business progress."

2 KEARNEY MEN SERIOUS AFTER PLANE CRASH

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP) — Two Kearney men were seriously injured in a plane crash Friday afternoon about 12 miles northeast of here.

The men were identified as Elbert M. Gallimore Jr., about 30, and Walt R. May, about 50.

The plane crashed about 3:30 p.m. The wreckage was not spotted until about 4 p.m. by Mrs. Pete Loeffelholz, Kearney, who drove by the accident scene. Mrs. Loeffelholz notified her husband who informed police.

Kearney police said the plane was a total wreck, and that parts were scattered over an area some 150 feet in diameter.

Preliminary Plans For Extension OKd

... Antelope Creek Conduit

By NANCY BENJAMIN Star Staff Writer

Directors of Sanitary District 1 approved preliminary plans for extension of the present Antelope Creek conduit running from N to Vine to reach the State Fair Grounds at Court St.

The 4,000-foot extension, detailed by District Engineer Ralph Marlette, will be a 20-foot wide concrete-lined box designed to prevent flooding in the area which suffered substantial losses during the July 1 flood.

The board authorized Friday a call for bids on the project estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, and also approved a call for bids on a new maintenance and storage building at 27th and Theresa.

Building Planned

The maintenance building is planned as a temporary steel structure, 40 by 28 feet, to house sanitary district trucks and equipment.

Formal approval and signing of deeds and contracts turning the sewage disposal plant and land over to the city were also concluded at the Friday board meeting.

Transfer of the plant is part of the plan under which the city will assume responsibility for sewage disposal and sanitary sewers financed by a sewer use fee and a proposed $2.5 million bond issue.

Reports Considered

Directors of Sanitary District 1 also considered four reports of complaint from owners along Salt Creek north of Lincoln requesting maintenance of creek dikes and replacement of one bridge. Attorney Max Kier reported that examination of statutes did not show the District had any legal requirements for perpetual maintenance of dikes or bridges.

The board was told that property owners along the creek may bring a delegation of 20 or 25 to the next District board meeting to protest the situation.

A unanimous vote of the board members present approved the payment of one-third of the cost of bringing up-to-date the 1952 Alvord, Burdick and Howson report on flood control on Salt, Dead Man's and Antelope Creek.

Share The Cost

The newly-formed Lincoln-Salt-Wahoo Co-ordinating Committee recommended that the District, city and county boards share the cost of up-dating flood control information on Lincoln waterways. The City Council and County Commissioners are expected to act on the recommendation next week.

William Stoner, board member, suggested that the District take the responsibility of rehiring the Chicago engineering firm to re-study their earlier survey if funds are voted by city and county officials. He pointed out that the District has "been a long and frequent customer of the firm."

Board Members Appointed

Board members Neil Vandemoer and Max Harding were appointed as a committee to work with Atty. Max Kier on the settlement of two claims of property owners in the 60th and Adams area against the District because of a sanitary sewer installation in 1955.

In other action the board accepted the low bid of $12,739.62 for the extension of a sanitary sewer line to the West O Drive-In Theater. Low bidder was Dobson and Robinson Contractors.

The board also voted appreciation to Martin Fitzsimmons and his staff at the sewage disposal plant for their work and co-ordination with the board. The superintendent and staff will come under city jurisdiction when the transfer of the plant becomes valid Sept. 1.

20,000 Cases Of Asiatic Flu Reported In U.S. In 10 Weeks

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U.S. Public Health Service said Friday that from 20,000 to 25,000 cases of Asiatic Flu have been reported throughout the nation in the last 10 weeks, most of them in California.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said he was "somewhat surprised" at the number of cases of the ailment which is expected to reach epidemic proportions this fall and winter.

At the same time, Burney announced that the newly-developed vaccine to combat the Asiatic flu has passed preliminary tests satisfactorily. The Public Health Service also reported it has recommended that the vaccine, soon to be produced in quantity, should be allocated to the states in proportion to their populations.

In listing the number of flu cases since June 1, the Public Health Service said that 17,900 occurred in California. The cases involved 2,350 civilians and 15,550 military personnel.

Forecast

Burney noted that sporadic outbreaks of the ailment during the summer were forecast.

The surgeon general also told newsmen that when and if an epidemic gets underway, there is no way to predict where it might start.

He said seeds of the Asiatic flu have apparently been planted throughout the nation, but past history of other influenza epidemics shows that they do not start until the onset of cold weather.

The proposed voluntary allocation program for the vaccine, to be scarce at least until early fall, came a day after the Commerce Department banned export of the vaccine which is produced only in the U.S.

Agreement

The surgeon general said that the six licensed manufacturers have been asked to ship civilian supplies to states in exact proportion to their population and most of the vaccine producers have indicated agreement. The system would be changed, he added, if one or more states are not using their full quotas or if an explosive outbreak should occur in one area.

Burney explained that the Public Health Service determined to concentrate on the "single shot" vaccine even though its use would not prevent other types of influenza.

Manufacturers expect to have 10 million doses ready by Sept. 15. They plan to move into full capacity production by October and to achieve or step up the goal of 60 million shots by Feb. 1.

Earlier this week manufacturers indicated that they hope to reach the 60 million mark before the end of the year.

VERN SCOFIELD

Scofield New Head National Press Group

EAGLE RIVER, Wis. — Vern Scofield of Lincoln, general manager of the Nebraska Press Association, Friday was named president of the Newspaper Association Managers, Inc. at the group's national convention here.

The News-association Managers is an organization of national press association general managers. Scofield served as vice president last year and was secretary-treasurer of NAM in 1955.

A native Nebraskan, he has been general manager of the Nebraska Press Association since 1951.

Scofield was born at Neligh, graduated from Neligh High School and published the Neligh News until entering the Army in 1942.

Scofield attended the University of Nebraska and the University of Minnesota. After World War II he was director of public relations for the Veterans Administration for a five-state midwest area with headquarters in Minneapolis.

Other officers are Bill Bray, Missouri Press Association, Columbia, vice president, and Bill Oertel, Ohio Press Association, Columbus, secretary-treasurer.

Board members elected were Bill Long, Colorado Press Association, Denver; Art Strang, Illinois Press Association, Champaign, and John Paul Jones, Florida Press Association, Gainesville.

The 1958 NAM convention will be held next August in Estes Park, Colo.

$175,000 SUIT IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

An out-of-court settlement of the $175,000 injury suit filed by Donald D. Bauer, 3414 J, against the Burlington Railroad, was announced Friday by Bauer's attorneys in Minneapolis.

The motion of dismissal of the case, which had been scheduled for trial in September, did not disclose the settlement figure. Bauer's attorneys Eugene A. Rerat and Phil Lush said it was $107,000.

Bauer, a car inspector for the railroad, fell between moving box-cars in the Lincoln yards July 9, 1952, and suffered injuries that required amputation of his right leg.

Bauer is presently employed by the Burlington at Lincoln.

Chessman Fails As Man Dies For Slaying Of Mother

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—A 22-year-old killer of his step-mother died in San Quentin's gas chamber Friday — vainly clinging to a shouted hint by the notorious death row inmate, Caryl Chessman, that he would be saved by a last minute court stay.

Thursday night as David J. Hardenbrook was being led from death row to a cell near the execution chamber, Chessman called:

"Don't worry, Davis and I will take care of it from this end. Chessman, convict-author, has fought off his own execution for nine years. George T. Davis has served as Chessman's attorney.

Warden Harley Y. Teets said that Hardenbrook believed until he entered the gas chamber that some last minute legal step might save him.

Texas Mayor Is Wounded; Aide Killed

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — City Secretary J. D. Hayes shot himself to death Friday after wounding Mayor Roland Turk in the left hand.

Mayor Turk said Hayes called him into his office in Memorial Hall, the Municipal Building, and held a pistol on him for about 10 minutes, threatening to kill him. The mayor said he ran out the door with Hayes firing at him.

Hayes' body was found on the floor of his office with a .38 caliber revolver nearby.

Justice of the Peace B. T. Webb returned a suicide verdict.

Audit Ordered

The mayor indicated that the audit of city records, ordered Tuesday night by the City Council, may have been behind the shooting. The council's action followed an argument over the demand of some citizens that a detailed audit be made.

Constable Tom Beard said "there was some previous contention between the mayor and secretary, but it never did amount to a real argument."

Mansfield, about 12 miles southeast of Fort Worth was the scene last fall of mob action which prevented Negroes from attending city schools.

Mrs. Turk, 53, was badly wounded in August 1954 when the family lived at nearby Arlington, Tex. She was shot four times, with bullets passing through both her upper arms and breasts and lower left arm.

Draftee Bucks Top Pentagon Brass Before Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A draftee bucked the Pentagon's top brass Friday and made progress toward convincing senators it would be a mistake to exempt slow-witted youths from selective service.

John Graham, 26, an Army private first class whose own I.Q. is obviously all right, told the Senate Armed Services Committee the proposed exemptions would carry a "certain social stigma."

He said Congress must consider "the impact on the individuals involved." Their lives would be damaged, he said, if it became known they had been rejected as too ignorant or too irresponsible.

He contended that in peacetime the military services have an obligation to help educate men to become useful citizens and soldiers.

"If they are not fit to defend their country, are they fit to live in it?" he asked.

Defense Department leaders are plugging for a bill permitting them to set higher mental standards for servicemen. They said the Army is wasting millions trying to train inductees who cannot learn to operate modern weapons.

Private Graham, who appeared at his own request, said he was practicing law with a New York City firm when he was drafted about a year ago. He is now stationed at Ft. Myer, Va.

Syracuse Pool Issue Defeated

Lincoln Star Special

SYRACUSE, Neb. — Syracuse voters Friday rejected a $45,000 bond issue for a municipal swimming pool.

Although the total vote was 297 for and 290 against, a 60 per cent majority was needed to carry the issue, according to Mrs. Lola Copenhagen, city clerk.

This was the first vote on the pool. The few absentee ballots to be counted are not expected to change the outcome, Mrs. Copenhagen said.

Radio, TV Expert Swap With Russ Proposed By U.S.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department proposed Friday to Russia that the U.S. and Russia exchange small delegations of radio and TV experts to study each others' techniques and programming.

The exchange offer was made to Moscow as a preliminary step to negotiations for development of broader people-to-people contacts as a means of easing East-West tensions.

The U.S. proposal was made in a note delivered to Soviet charge d'affaires Sergei R. Striganov by Frederick T. Merrill, director of the State Department's East-West contacts staff.

The Soviets were told that the U.S. "is prepared to accept the proposal of the U.S.S.R. to begin negotiations on the development of contacts . . . in conjunction with periodic exchanges of radio and TV broadcasts . . . to the end that all reasonable measures be taken to facilitate further the technical, scientific and cultural exchanges between the two countries."

The U.S. suggested that the discussions could take place in Washington in October between the Soviet ambassador and State Department representatives.

It was suggested that as a preliminary to the discussions, the two countries exchange small delegations of radio and TV experts to study the techniques, programming, and how many hours a day are devoted to various types of broadcasting.

One Name Taken From State List Of Traffic Deaths

Nebraska's 1957 traffic fatality total was adjusted downward Friday with the elimination of the name of Arthur D. Bush, 81, of Chappell, from the traffic death list.

Bush was injured fatally July 26 in a car-train collision at a Union Pacific railroad crossing one mile east of Chappell.

Robert Pease, Director of the State Accident Records Bureau, said it had been ascertained the mishap occurred on private property rather than a public road and as a result was not considered a traffic death within the bureau's meaning of the term.

The revision placed the death toll at 167, compared with 179 at this time last year.

Cool To Foreign Aid

It could be close if a referendum were to be taken, but we have the notion that most Ne-braskans would have strung along with the members of the congressional delegation in the House who voted solidly against Ike's plea for additional foreign aid funds.

We doubt that their vote in opposition will be noticed. The entire delegation has played the role of yes-man so much of the time in the last four years that it is difficult to believe they turn their faces to the wall and answer "no" when the master speaks.

Fact is, there is a mounting opposition to foreign aid not only in this farming region but also a mounting opposition in industrial centers. It may say over and over again that every penny of the request for foreign aid is needed urgently, but his words fall upon thin air when the White House day after day pounds away on the theme of economy.

There is a place, we assume, where economy should begin. The White House can see very little of value to domestic programs of a regional flavor even though the programs themselves may become matters of life and death to the people of the region. But in the Near East and in other parts of the world, little countries which by no stretch of the imagination measure up with the areas here at home seemingly can present an appealingly intriguing case for themselves.

There has not been too much publicity but we simply have gotten tired of shelling it out to others only to be told there is nothing for us.

We Don't Count Any More

Every Nebraskan would do well to turn to another portion of this page and read and reflect upon the comments of Doris Fleson this morning. If anyone has been having trouble seeing the forest for the trees her column will correct that impediment.

With clarity she observes "one of the extraordinary phenomena of the Eisenhower administration is the complete and utter collapse of the once powerful farm bloc."

That is another way of describing the eclipse

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Maybe we do not fully understand this defense business. Back in 1948, less than 10 years ago, a naval air station was established in Lincoln at a cost to Uncle Sam of $3,500,000. That was peanuts to the gaunt boy with the flowing goatee who at that time was operating on the basis of billions. But it meant an annual payroll of $1,700,000 in Lincoln, operating costs of $800,000, Navy personnel at 327, reserve personnel of 730, or a total personnel of 1,066 including 49 civilian employees. Station equipment included 32 airplanes.

Out of Washington came an unconfirmed and what now appears to have been an erroneous report in the news columns that ultimately the station is to be closed out, lock, stock and barrel. There were only unofficial reports of activity on the part of the Nebraska congressional delegation to find out when and why. In all good season, we assume Lincoln's civic leaders will come awake, its Chamber of Commerce will enter the battle to retain the Naval Air Station, and there will be another demonstration of what is happening all over the country in isolated communities. We get busy as a bobby to keep what we have and we get busy to take it away. We construct an installation and then we close it down. We reactivate it and then we deactivate it. We are to all outside purposes the big wheel that goes 'round and 'round. Why? In the next few weeks in the interest of national defense we will put 60 ships in mothballs, including the mighty battleship Iowa. Why? No one in the service has ever been able to develop weapons that remain effective even for a short period of time—no one has been able to avoid the crushing burden of obsolescence or over-age, or unneeded and in surplus, so it would seem. All of that is a part of the extravagance and wastage of national defense—or shall we call it security?

Awaiting Word On Closing

Here today and gone tomorrow. Gone tomorrow and back in business the day following. All of it, we are led to believe, is a part of the program to make Uncle Sam strong. He may be strong but if he keeps on going through these motions year after year, there is going to come a time when he also has holes in his pockets. No siree, there are times when we must confess that we do not understand this business of national defense in all of its detail and we are convinced others are befuddled. They are the people who do not understand as much as they should. They are the people who obstinately seem to believe that cuts can be made in the appropriations for national defense without any loss in the actual fighting potential which is Uncle Sam's real security.

Along the same line but in civilian life, we are indebted to Miss Nancy Benjamin for a genuine punch line in connection with the Pershing Memorial Auditorium ice rink. "Cool temperatures, sweet music, smooth ice—everything except skaters," Miss Benjamin observed. "Adding in skaters, spectators and people who just come in to get cool, the skating area is drawing only about 1,000 persons a week, or on the average of 150 a day. Many of them are repeaters. The same small group visits the ice rink nightly while the city pays the bills. Admissions far from cover the additional expense of maintaining the ice and staffing the skating concessions, Manager Don Jewell explained. The $100 daily power bill is over 90 per cent for the ice and rink lighting, plus $25 daily expense for staffing the rink. Biggest week for the rink was the opening, which grossed $620. The usual seven-day skating schedule nets about $500. Compared to this, the weekly cost of operating the skating arena, above expenses for operation of the building itself, averages around $800." Offhand we are forced to conclude that that does not add up to making money, even slowly.

Now, here is one to which we have given prolonged thought. There is among skaters, we conclude, a time to skate and a time not to skate. The same thing holds true of swimming. How would the swimming fan feel about it if he were to take a dip with the thermometer 20 degrees below zero? How does the skating enthusiast feel about it where he cuts a fancy figure with the thermometer hanging around 100 degrees? All of this is on the high level. Manager Jewell wants to know where all these people are who insisted that a modern auditorium without a skating rink was no more impressive than a Texas steer without long horns. Put on your skates tomorrow. It will keep Manager Jewell's temperature down, if not your own.

DREW PEARSON

Lyndon Knew Way To Solons' Hearts

WASHINGTON — This column recently reported the amazing manipulations by which Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas master-minded the passage of civil rights bill and secured adoption of the jury trial amendment. I now find that I owe Senator Johnson an apology.

I underestimated his political prowess. Here are some of his additional backstage moves which I did not know about.

It was young Sen. Frank Church of Idaho who broadened the jury trial amendment to include, among others, jury trials for labor unions in case they violated labor injunctions. This won the potent support of the railroad brotherhoods, United Mine Workers, and postal employees.

Senator Church has now received his reward. He and Mrs. Church have departed for Rio De Janeiro, then on to Buenos Aires to attend the Pan American Economic Conference as part of the American delegation, all expenses paid.

As one of the youngest members of the Senate, the attractive senator from Idaho would not ordinarily rate such an appointment. Many older senators would like to take this nice trip to South America. Senator Johnson, however, threw the reward to Church.

A lot of people wondered why Senators Schoeppel of Kansas and

ED FITZHUGH

Gen. Jackson Nixed The First Panty Raid

Thomas Jackson's underwear has never until now been a subject of historical controversy. The Thomas Jackson in question was a rough, tough, uninhibited old galoot who was pretty much admired in his day for being a hard man to push around. Most people know him better by a nickname, "Stonewall." If this underwear business had come to the fore sooner, he might have been nicknamed "Long John" instead, which could have altered a whole generation of hero worship. It is, of course, unthinkable that he should have been called "Union Suit," since he was one of the bulwarks of the Confederacy.

Where the underwear comes into it is a story uncovered by Edwin C. Bearss, historian at the Vicksburg National Military Park in Mississippi. Bearss says he has not yet been able to get absolute proof of the truth of the story, but he is reasonably certain it is true. The story goes this way:

In his defense of Fredericksburg, Va., on Dec. 13, 1862, Gen. Jackson repulsed one Federal attack and was looking about for a way to convince the Yankees that the area was permanently unhealthy for them. He had an idea which, for that time and type of warfare, was daring. Why not launch a night attack?

Those were not the days of flares and floodlights, and if they had been the Confederates were mostly too poor to afford them. An aide pointed out to the general the difficulties of warfare at night. "How will we be able to distinguish our men from the enemy?" he

Butler of Maryland, both staunch administration Republicans, deserted the administration on the jury trial amendment. These people, like this column, underestimated Lyndon Johnson. Here is the inside story of what happened:

Both senators have wanted extra federal judges appointed in their states. On January 7, Senator Schoeppel introduced a bill to provide a new U.S. district judge in Kansas. On January 17, Senator Butler introduced a similar bill for a new judge in Maryland. These bills went to the Senate Judiciary Committee, chair-manned by Senator Eastland of Mississippi, bitter foe of civil rights. There they gathered dust. No action was taken.

Suddenly, three days after the jury trial amendment was adopted by the Senate (and after both Schoeppel and Butler voted for that amendment), their two bills were reported out of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on August 7. Two days later, they were reported to the full Senate without a single comma or semicolon changed. Senator Eastland, chairman, had taken the cue from Lyndon Johnson.

Similar bills were introduced in the last Congress but got nowhere. This time, however, Senators Butler and Schoeppel voted for the jury trial amendment and immediately got their reward.

Apologies to Lyndon for under-estimating his backstage ability. (Copyright 1937 By Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Are You Coming Home Tonight?

Are you coming home, ye wanderers,
Whom Jesus died to win,
All footsore, lame and weary,
Your garments stained with sin;
Will you seek the blood of Jesus
To wash your garments white;
Will you trust His precious promise,
Are you coming home tonight?

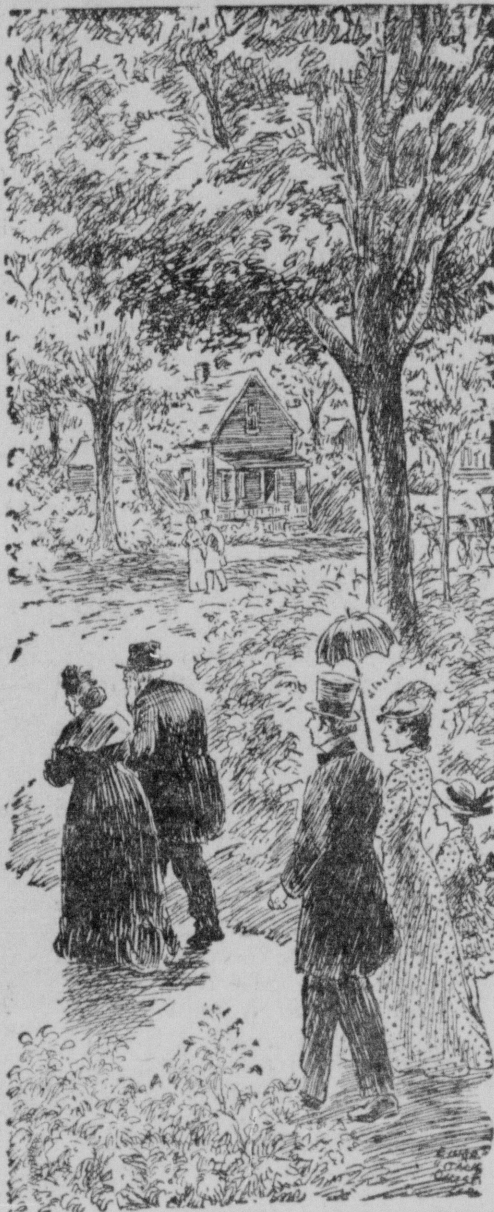

Are you coming home, ye lost ones?
Behold your Lord doth wait;
Come, then no longer linger,
Come, ere it be too late;
Will you come and let Him save you,
O trust His love and might;
Will you come while He is calling,
Are you coming home tonight?

Are you coming home, ye guilty,
Who bear the load of sin;
Outside you've long been standing,
Come now and venture in;
Will you heed the Saviour's promise,
And dare to trust Him quite,
"Come unto me," saith Jesus,
Are you coming home tonight?

By HORACE B. POWELL

James McGranahan, one of the 19th century's leading singing evangelists, composed the music for this favorite gospel song and he was also responsible, to some extent, for the message of the hymn as we have it today.

The song verses had their origin in a poem written by a young woman in Scotland. Mr. McGranahan got hold of the stanzas and decided that, if set to music, they would make a fine gospel hymn. Before writing his tune, however, he made some revision of the words themselves. When the song was introduced publicly—probably at one of the many revivals in which the composer's musical leadership played an important role—it was accepted enthusiastically and through the years that followed, it helped to win many new Christian converts.

Sweet, Sweet Music

Loup City, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Linked to an earlier Nebraska was the observation that the sweetest music of summer, particularly in July and August, is the sound of raindrops on the roof.

There have been those welcome storms in this second full week of August. The moisture of Thursday night in central, southern, and eastern Nebraska was so welcome. Here on the 15th day of August, more than an inch of rain, for the most part falling slowly and gently, soaked the fields and as a result we can count on a reasonably satisfactory corn crop of both quality and quantity.

It is sweet music to the ears of all Nebraskans when the skies open up, lightning flashes across the heavens, the thunder rolls, and the rains descend. We can always be thankful and happy any time that takes place in the first 15 days of August and at the time that it happens corn has not suffered extensive injuries.

There is no finer experience in rural Nebraska than to be awakened from sleep by the lightning flashes of the approaching storm, and the low roll of thunder, mounting higher. We can close our eyes and say to ourselves: "What a truly wonderful world it is."

What It Stands For

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We have been witnessing the doings of our Congress in regard to the school bill and to civil rights. These doings based mainly upon sectional interests have shaken this nation. To help steady and unify this grand USA, a poem by the late Enna James is presented:

United we stand, divided we fall.
No words ever spoken are truer than these.
In prosperity's day or adversity's night
To move in accord be America's aim.
Eternally guarding the rights we hold dear,
Denouncing the isms that knock at our door.

Shoulder to shoulder we march on together.
True to the tenets our forebears laid down
And for which our fathers and brothers died;
Tell to all people that unity pays.
Endeavor to teach by word and by deed;
Setting the world 'pon democracy's ways.
As a concluding thought, it is our conviction that a ratio of senators should henceforth be elected at large and thus better represent all states and sections.

Our Errorae

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the middle of Page 1 in the Wednesday, August 14, issue of The Star, did you forget the feminine plural of "persona non grata" as applied to three persons? Singular, indeed! How come?

A. H.

Editor's Note: Reader "A. H." refers to the Associated Press story on the ouster of three American embassy officials by Syria, in which the following sentence appeared: "The branding of the three as persona non grata (unwelcome) was announced by a foreign office spokesman."

Feeble Gesture

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Lincoln Star does impressive service for the cause of education on its editorial page of August 15. Everybody interested in schools would do well to read Drew Pearson and the summary of the President's Committee on Education in this issue.

A few years ago the flood of youngsters coming into the grade ing factor with the President of the United States.

More than anything else, this seems to be the real reason why Mr. Eisenhower retired from the battle in the struggle in Congress for federal aid.

A word from the President would probably have saved the day.

Enlightened people in every department of endeavor see the need for very greatly increased provision for education at every level in the United States. Education is not only a "must" for the welfare of the individual child, it is an obvious essential for the national welfare and economic growth of the country. We not only dummy out on the clear need of our youngsters but we are blind to the national welfare when we persist in our stupid and selfish refusal to provide adequate means for the educational needs of our people as a whole. Our national Chamber of Commerce is penny-wise and pound-foolish. The President means well, but in the incisive language of Theodore Roosevelt, "he means well feebly."

Omaha, DeWitt Men Die In Collisions

'57 Fatality Toll At 168

Nebraska's 1957 highway fatality toll rose to 168 Friday, following two deaths in separate accidents at Omaha and near Beatrice. The Omaha mishap was reportedly a hit-run collision.

The latest victims:

Joy G. Fields, 24, Omaha.

Ally W. Zimmerman, 60, DeWitt. Fields was fatally injured when his motorcycle was struck from the rear during an early Friday rainstorm in Omaha's near-north side. Several hours later police arrested a 42-year-old Lowell A. Suggs in connection with the case.

Suggs was arrested after police spotted a car in front of his home which fit the description of the one involved in the crash. Traffic Inspector J. C. Whinnery said Suggs admitted "striking something" in the area where the accident occurred, but did not know what it was.

Meanwhile, funeral arrangements are pending for Mr. Zimmerman, who was killed in a two-car accident near Beatrice on his 60th birthday anniversary.

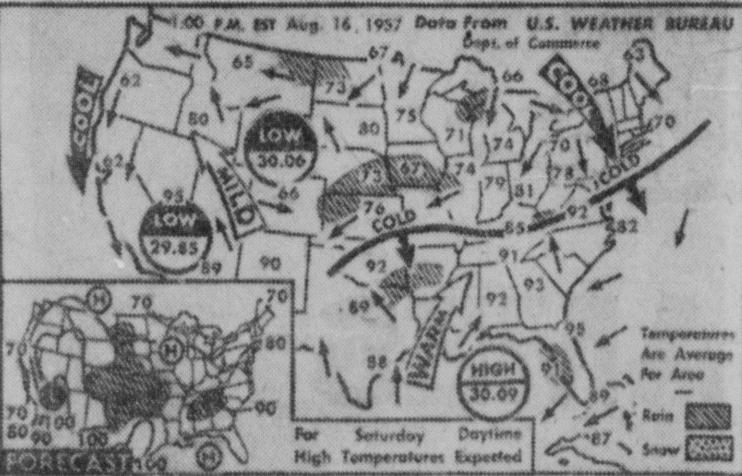

Deputy Sheriff Fred Steinkamp said the accident occurred two and a half miles west of the Homestead National Monument at the intersection of two rural gravel roads.

Driver of the second car was identified as Marilyn Niemeyer, 17, of Plymouth. Her mother, Mrs. William Niemeyer, 46, a passenger in the car, was reported "better" Friday. Marilyn and a 13-year-old brother, Darrell, were both "doing real well" Friday, hospital authorities said.

Mr. Zimmerman, a native of Shickley, moved to the DeWitt vicinity in 1900. He had farmed there for many years. The Zimmerman family held a reunion in DeWitt this week, and as a result it has been difficult to contact his sisters who are en route to their homes. Surviving are his wife, Florence; two sons, Dean and Marvin, both at home; a brother, Harry of DeWitt; and five sisters, Mrs. Ralph Waldo of Lewellen, Mrs. Rose Cloyd of Lexington, Mrs. Mable Cloyd of Riverton, Wyo., Mrs. Fern Treu of Garner, Ia., and Mrs. Pearl Henske of Madras, Ore.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures will average slightly below normal during the five days ending with next Wednesday, with rather cool weather through the period. Normal highs range from the mid 80s in the north to the upper 80s in the south-central portions, and normal lows from the upper 50s in the Panhandle to the middle 60s in the southeast. Rainfall is expected to occur as showers and thunderstorms mostly Saturday and Sunday, averaging .50 of an inch or more.

Cooler Temps Set For Central Plains

Showers are due Saturday in the great Plains, middle Mississippi valley and all southern border states from the Atlantic to southern California. It will continue cool over the Great Lakes and New England and become cooler in portions of the central Plains and middle Mississippi valley, and eastward from central and southern Appalachians. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Miniature Train Delights Small Fry

Lincoln Star Special
SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. — The children of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Herber of Scottsbluff do not have to go to a carnival or circus to ride a miniature train.

They have their own in their back yard which Herber built for them. It runs all the way around the back yard.

It is not only a great delight to the Herber children but also to all the children in the neighborhood. They are always on hand when he comes home in the evening for a ride on the Herber Limited.

The train consists of an engine and two flat cars. It can accommodate five children on one tour of the Herber back yard.

Made Train Himself

Herber built the train himself. From a washing machine motor he made the engine. It is an eight-wheel drive just like the largest locomotives. He covered the motor with sheet metal to make it look like a locomotive.

The motor has an automatic clutch so that the engineer can stop the train without stopping the engine.

The two flat cars are just small cars he purchased and put on new wheels for the track.

He made the track from 3/4 by 1/2 inch iron strips. The track sets down in the grass far enough so that he can run his mowing machine right over it when he mows the back lawn.

Building of the train is not the result of a hobby of Herber's. In fact he has an admirable philosophy about it. He built it so that his children would have something unique with which to play. That way they will stay home, he feels, where Mrs. Herber and he want them and where they belong.

The Herbers have four daughters. They are Jean Marie, 6; Kay Marlene, 4; Debra Ann, 2, and Brenda Lou, six months. Brenda Lou has not become a train enthusiast as yet.

Making the train was not too difficult a task for Herber.

An engineering graduate, he operates a machinery supply company in Scottsbluff.

Girls Display Phelps County Steer Champs

HOLDREGE, Neb. — Both the grand champion 4-H baby beef steer and reserve champion steer were shown by girls at this year's Phelps County Fair.

The grand champion was shown by Carolyn Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson of Holdrege, who exhibited an Angus steer. Grand champion heifer was shown by Daryl Broberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welton Broberg of Loomis. Daryl was also top showman with his Hereford.

Judy Dahlgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dahlgren of Bertrand, had the reserve champion steer, a Hereford, and Deane Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nelson of Overton, had the reserve champion heifer, also a Hereford.

Gerald Johnson and Delwyn Gustafson won top honors in the 4-H dairy competition, both showing Holsteins.

Grading Work Gets Started On Interstate

OMAHA — Grading work started Friday on the first leg of the Nebraska Interstate Highway.

Contractor R. Sam Krage of Sioux City, Iowa, said heavy rain slowed down the work. The Western Contracting Corp., Sioux City, sublet the grading work to the Krage firm.

Western has the contract for grading and paving the first stretch of the highway—a 6.4 mile strip from the Gretna Fish Hatchery Corner to Highway 370 between Gretna and Papillion.

Grading work started three miles northeast of the Fish Hatchery Corner.

Western Contracting expects to start paving the highway next spring.

Voters Turn Down New School Issue

Lincoln Star Special

BAYARD, Neb. — District 73 voters rejected a $35,000 bond issue for a new school building by a slim margin, 59-56. Passage by a 55 per cent majority would have been necessary for approval.

The bond issue would have provided a two classroom school and recreational hall, library and furnace and storage room for students in the first through eighth grades.

Proponents of the bond issue said petitions asking for another election sometime in the near future probably will be circulated. One school district member said he felt sure the measure would pass if brought up for election again "after they know the facts on what one school could save them."

He pointed out that three separate schools in the district need three teachers, while a new school would need only two.

Gifts To Hastings College During Year Hit $295,462

HASTINGS, Neb. — Walter Schoggen, vice president of Hastings College, reports gifts for all purposes to the college during the fiscal year ending July 31, reached a total of $295,462.

Part of this amount goes to endowment, part to building and repairs, and part for operating expenses, Schoggen said. Gifts represent one of the three major sources of income for the college, he explained, the other two being tuition from endowment.

Funds given include $77,000 from the Ford Foundation of New York; $29,102 from Presbyterian churches in the synod of Nebraska; $18,297 from the Board of Christian Education of the National Presbyterian Church; $103,924.95 from individuals; $29,252.25 from scholarships gifts; $8,335.86 from the Nebraska Independent College Foundation; and $50,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Perkins of Lake Forest, Ill.; and $3,325 from miscellaneous sources.

Included in gifts from individuals and other funds is $76,231 from Hastings College alumni, but earmarked for different purposes so that it could not all be isolated, John Glassey, secretary of the Alumni Association, explained.

The $50,000 given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Perkins was for air conditioning Fuhr Hall of Fine Arts, and that work is now in progress. Perkins had previously joined with his two brothers and four sisters in giving $100,000 for the building of Perkins Memorial Hall in honor of their parents, David and Kizandra Perkins, last of a long line of pioneers dating from before the Revolutionary War down to their own pioneer days in Nebraska.

First 'Confidential' Defense Witness Describes Maureen O'Hara Love Scene

... Prosecution Ends Its Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first defense witness in the Confidential magazine libel trial testified Friday that he saw actress Maureen O'Hara engage in a love scene with an unidentified man in the back row of a theater.

This testimony obviously was designed to prove the defense contention there is a basis for truth in the Confidential stories.

The prosecution had just ended its case with the first celebrity witness, producer Paul Gregory. Gregory accused defendant Marjorie Meade of offering to cancel a proposed Confidential article about himself, Charles Laughton, Robert Mitchum and Elsa Lanchester — if Gregory paid $800 to $1,000. The story never was printed.

Mrs. Meade broke down in tears after the Gregory testimony. She took the stand after a recess and denied she had ever seen or talked to the producer.

November '53

Testifying in clipped British tones, James Craig declared he supplied the information for the March 1957, Confidential article on Miss O'Hara. Now an independent film producer in London, he said he was assistant manager of Grauman's Chinese Theater when the scene he depicted took place in November 1953.

Craig said the flame-haired actress and a man he described as a Mexican entered the theater at 10:30 p.m. and were seated in the back row. Later, he declared, an usher asked him to investigate the couple. Craig ultimately asked them to leave.

"Miss O'Hara was lying across the seats and over his lap," the young, dark-haired witness said. "Her blouse was undone and she was disheveled."

"When I observed what was going on, I coughed. But they did nothing at all."

Craig said he returned to the lobby, took a flashlight and walked up the aisle, flicking the light. When it shone on Miss O'Hara and her escort, he said, "they suddenly jumped to attention and resumed their seats."

"At It Again"

Later, he declared, the usher reported, "they're at it again." Craig said he returned to the theater and found the couple occupying the same seat.

"This time I flashed the light on them and told them politely to leave," Craig said.

He added Miss O'Hara asked for use of the flashlight to locate a diamond cufflink.

Miss O'Hara has denied the story before the Los Angeles Grand Jury that indicted Confidential.

She has sued the magazine for a million dollars damages.

Craig said he related the story to Michael Mordant-Smith, Confidential European representative, with whom he flew here from London two days ago. Craig said he was paid $200 for his information.

Much of the afternoon session was involved in a discussion of the scene in the theater. Craig drew a detailed layout of the theater and the three chairs he said Miss O'Hara reclined upon.

Mamie To Be In Hospital At Least Over Weekend

WASHINGTON (INS) — The White House said that the first lady would remain in Walter Reed Army Hospital at least through the weekend.

Mrs. Eisenhower has been making steady progress toward recovery since undergoing an operation 10 days ago.

There has been no word from her doctors as to how long she will remain in the hospital. A White House spokesman said all he knew at present was that the first lady would be in Walter Reed at least through Sunday.

YOUNGSTOWN, O (INS) — Two bandits — one of them wearing a silk-stocking mask — held up a branch of the Mahoning National Bank at the suburban Boardman Plaza shopping center Friday and fled with $40,000.

AF Disputes Army Claim On Missiles

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force disputed Friday a report that the Army last week for the first time successfully solved the problem of heat generated in the nose of missiles on their supersonic trips back to earth.

The Air Force said "numerous" nose cones have been recovered from its experimental X-17 rocket after enduring the heat generated by friction while plunging through the atmosphere.

In fact, the Air Force said, one of the cones was on public display for the first time Aug. 1 at an Air Force Association airport panorama in Washington.

The Army had "no comment" on the report that the so-called re-entry problem was first solved in the firing of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile at Florida.

Judge Fitzgerald Ends Disposition Of Huge Backlog

OMAHA (AP) — District Judge James M. Fitzgerald Friday completed disposition of a backlog of 80 cases assigned to him.

The judge, assailed last week by a fellow judge for "openly flouting the court's rule on pre-trial conferences," swept through 80 cases in the last eight days, District Court records showed.

A court rule requires a pre-trial conference on a case before it can go on the trial calendar. Judge Fitzgerald, remarking that his finger was sore because he had been on the telephone so much, explained that much of his work had been completed over the telephone.

Last week, when District Judge L. Ross Newkirk criticized him for "shirking his duty," Judge Fitzgerald had taken no action on the cases assigned to him for pre-trial sessions.

Barber Confused

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward T. Gignoux, 41-year-old Portland attorney, approved Friday by the Senate Judiciary Committee as U.S. district judge for Maine, tells this on himself:

Before attending the committee hearing he went to a barber shop for a hair trim. He mentioned to the barber he wanted to look his best because he was appearing before a Senate committee.

After a slight pause, the barber commented:

"But you don't look like one of those labor racketeers."

Gignoux assured him that he was not; that he was a candidate for a federal judgeship.

"Well, you don't look much like a judge either," the barber said.

CELEBRITIES' HERE TELL OF FAMOUS RELATIVE

... McElroy's Daughter, Her Husband

By MARGARET DVORAK

Star Staff Writer

Lt. and Mrs. David Dimling are a friendly, young newlywed couple, living in a homey apartment at 1835 D.

No one would be likely to suspect they were "celebrities."

And Mrs. Dimling says she doubts if few people here knew she was the daughter of Neil McElroy, who is in line to succeed Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, until a week ago, when a story appeared in the Sunday Journal and Star.

Petite, pretty Barbara Dimling met her husband, who is now stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base, on a blind date arranged by her sister, Nancy when Barbara was a high school senior and David a college senior.

Father 'Anticipating' Work

Discussing her father's new appointment, Mrs. Dimling said she is sure her father, a man who likes challenging work, is anticipating his new responsibilities.

As for her mother, she is "diplomatic," Mrs. Dimling said with a smile, and has always made it a point not to interfere in Mr. McElroy's work.

"I'm sure she will get along just fine as the wife of the Secretary of Defense," Mrs. Dimling commented.

The Dimlings like Lincoln and Nebraska very much and Mrs. Dimling expressed amazement at the overwhelming friendliness of everyone — from casual acquaintances to the groceryman.

Discharge Due Soon

Lt. Dimling, who has been stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base for two years, will be discharged Sept. 6, and Mrs. Dimling intends to return to Cincinnati, O., to be with her family next week.

After his discharge, Lt. Dimling will attend graduate school at Harvard, and Mrs. Dimling will complete her schooling at Wellesley, where she will be a junior. Barbara's older sister, Nancy, a graduate of Bryn Mawr, will also be attending graduate school at Harvard, and will live a few blocks from the Dimlings, but the McElroy son, Malcolm, a high school student, will probably go to school in Washington, D.C., when his parents move there.

Woman Testifies

Gar Wood, 77, Is

Dad To Her Child

DETROIT (INS) — A woman defendant in a vice trial testified in Detroit Recorder's Court Friday that she had been the common law wife of millionaire boat builder Gar Wood and gave birth to his child.

Mrs. Doris Wood, 26, a slim brunette who is accused of accepting the earnings of call girls, rocked the courtroom spectators with her testimony regarding her association with the boating enthusiast.

The defendant said she met Gar Wood, 77, at a swank dinner party at the home of playboy Horace Dodge after a boat race in August, 1949, and added:

"Mr. Wood asked for my phone number and he called me up nearly every day. We enjoyed each other's company."

Proposed

She said Wood asked her to marry him sometime after a swimming party in Wood's palatial home at Grayhaven near the Detroit River.

She testified that she and Wood started living together as man and wife at Grayhaven, an arrangement that lasted nearly two years before they separated.

Mrs. Wood said that her approaching childbirth in 1951 brought about the separation. She explained:

"When I told Wood I was going to have a baby he gave me the name of a doctor and told me to see him. I was horrified. I stopped living with him shortly afterward."

Newsman Ousted

WARSAW (INS) — An American newsman was accused of filing exaggerated reports of this week's Lodz transport strike and ordered to leave Poland within seven days.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs said it had withdrawn the correspondent's accreditation of Anthony Cavendish of the United Press.

56 Passengers Escape As Plane Loses A Wheel

SEATTLE (AP) — A wheel spun away from the landing gear of a Northwest Airlines DC4 passenger plane as it touched down at the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport Friday. The 56 persons aboard escaped unhurt.

The plane was on a Washington, D. C.-Seattle flight. It came to rest upright on the center of the runway. The passengers were unloaded on the field.

The airport was closed for an hour before the plane could be moved off the field.

Navy Officials Here 'Anxious' About Station

Capt. Bill A. Mills, commanding officer of the Lincoln Naval Air Station, said Friday the base officials "are very anxious to find out" the status of the station.

The Navy Department had informed Nebraska Congressmen that four civilian employees would be removed from the payroll by Oct. 31 and the entire 49 civilians at the station by June 30.

"As long as we haven't heard anything we are still optimistic," Capt. Mills said.

Although the Congressmen had been informed, the Lincoln Naval Air Station has received no official word other than talks with Adm. Henry Caldwell at Glenview, Ill., who told Lincoln officials that the situation was being discussed.

Mayor Bennett S. Martin said he hopes to contact sources in Washington over the weekend so he may report on the status of the Lincoln installation at Monday's City Council meeting.

Request Repeated

MOSCOW (INS) — Soviet and West German negotiators discussed a trade and consular agreement after the Germans again asked for the repatriation of the 30,000 German citizens they say are held in Russia. The chief Soviet negotiator, Vladimir Semenov, reportedly insisted that there are no Germans now detained in the Soviet Union. The repatriation question has stalled a Russo-German agreement for several weeks.

Nurses Next

WARSAW (INS) — The Communist party newspaper Trybuna Ludu reported that Poland's nurses may be the next work force to stage a strike in support of demands for pay raises.

The executive committee of the Health Workers Trade Union is scheduled to meet Saturday to discuss the nurses' grievances.

A FIGHTING FUGITIVE

The O'Briens Will Go Far Away

Sometime in September, so we are told, Capt. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien and their two sons, Scott and Mike, will be pulling up stakes and leaving Lincoln for far away places.

Capt. O'Brien, an Annapolis graduate who chose the Air Force as his career, has been assigned to New Delhi, India where he will be the assistant Air Attache.

But before India comes Washington, D.C. where Capt. O'Brien and his family will reside for a few months while Capt. O'Brien learns a few facts concerning his new post which he and his family believe will be an exceedingly interesting one.

B, PW Board Fall Meeting

The regular fall board meeting of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Omaha with Miss Sara Jane Cunningham of Lincoln, state president, presiding.

Registration and an informal meeting of the officers will be held Friday evening, and the Saturday agenda will include a business session, workshops and a report on the national board meeting by Miss Cunningham at the evening dinner.

Guest speaker on Saturday will be Sen. Roman Hruska, and an address will be given by Mrs. Alma L. Traux of Scottsbluff, first vice president.

The meeting will conclude with a Sunday morning breakfast at which Mrs. George Abel, American Mother of the Year, will be featured speaker.

Club Donates New TV Set

The LAFB Officers Wives Club recently donated a television set to the Westview Nursing Home according to an announcement by Mrs. Marvin Pope, club president.

The gift was aided by the donation of a 17-inch television set by Mrs. H. C. Brooks to be used as a trade-in for the new set. Chairman of the project was Mrs. James Peerman assisted by Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Dick Fester, chairman of the Westview Home committee.

A Wedding On Friday

MRS. ERNEST GEMBALA

Fan arrangements of all-white pompons appointed the chancel of the Reformed Church at Firth where the wedding of Miss Clarice Jean Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arie M. Klein of Adams, and Ernest Gembala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gembala of Loup City, took place at an 8 o'clock ceremony, solemnized by the Rev. H. J. Kolenbrander, on Friday evening, Aug. 16. The vocal soloists, Miss Beverly Robson and Wayne Van Engen, were accompanied by Mrs. Ed Van Groenigen, organist, who played the wedding music.

Sheath frocks of turquoise taffeta, with overskirts of matching net, were chosen for the costumes of the attendants including Mrs. Milton L. Klein of Lincoln, sister-in-law of the bride, who was the matron of honor; maid of honor Miss Eleanor Gembala of Loup City, sister of the bridegroom; bridesmaid Miss Barbara Gembala of Hebron, and bridesmatron, Mrs. Marvin Hall of Prairie Home. Each carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations.

James Gembala of Loup City served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Milton L. Klein of Lincoln; Roger Gembala of Hebron, and Allen R. Klein.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported Chantilly lace and tulle. Beneath the long-sleeved bodice of lace-oversatin, smoothly sculptured and designed with a rounded net yoke patterned with lace flowers encrusted with iridescent sequins, the floor-length bouffant skirt was created of alternating bands of lace and ruffles. A crown of rose point lace, dotted with sequins and pearls, held in place her tiered veil of imported illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids on a white Bible.

Upon their return from a short honeymoon trip, for which Mrs. Gembala wore a frock of black Dupioni silk, with white accessories, Mr. Gembala and his bride will reside at 1630 H St.

The bride attended Pella College, Pella, Ia., and the University of Nebraska where Mr. Gembala now is a student.

'Around Town

SOMEHOW one always expects a mid-August week-end to be a bit on the lethargic side due to numerous factors. But we learned that we can't de-umph the current period entirely since there is news of a variety of festivity for both Saturday evening and Sunday.

Of course you know about the 'teen-age dance at the Lincoln Country Club this evening when the sons and daughters of the club's members — and their guests, will crowd in a few hours of fun.

AND out at East Hills this evening the members of the Mr. and Mrs. Dancing Club will have a swimming party followed by dancing.

And mention of the Mr. and Mrs. Club reminds us that their first party of the fall season will be on Friday evening, Oct. 4, and will be a dinner dance at Hotel Lincoln.

SUNDAY's party calendar at the moment seems to be devoted to Alpha Chi Omega's Miss Joan Gabarron whose marriage to Paul Young will be solemnized at a 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass at Sacred Heart Church on Friday, Aug. 30.

On Sunday afternoon Miss Gabarron will be complimented when Mrs. John Anderson will be a hostess at her home. The guest list will include 14 former high school classmates—not of the bride — but of her mother — Mrs. John J. Gabarron. The soon-to-be bride will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

A WEEK from Sunday — Aug. 25, Miss Gabarron will be the honoree when Mrs. Milton Beecher pays prenuptial courtesy to the bride-to-be. The party will be a 10 o'clock brunch to which all active Lincoln members of Alpha Chi Omega have been invited.

UNDERSTAND that Tom Harley returned to Lincoln from Aberdeen, Md., where he has been stationed, at mid-week, but seems to be more or less commuting between here and Omaha — the home of his fiancée, Miss Janet Bailey.

The wedding of Miss Bailey and Dr. Harley will take place on Aug. 31.

AND mention of Dr. Harley reminds us that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burks Harley, who have been spending the summer at their summer home at Pelican Lake, are returning to Nebraska earlier than usual this season — They will arrive in Lincoln on Aug. 21, and will be accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Harley and their family.

Entertained

Members of the 13 chapters of Beta Sigma Phi were guests last Wednesday evening at a picnic supper held at Van Dorn Park. The picnic was given by Alpha Rho Chapter and Xi Beta Chapter of the sorority and more than 100 attended.

A special guest was Miss Jo Neukam, former president of the sorority's city council. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Art Glantz of Alpha Rho Chapter and Mrs. Myron Julian, president of Xi Beta Chapter.

There's nothing like a hearty welcome from friends to give returning vacationists that it's nice-to-be-home feeling, and we're sure that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shurtleff and their son and daughter found their homecoming an exceedingly pleasant one.

For already with a hot-dog party were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Van Bloom who had invited Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles and their family to be on hand to greet the Shurtleffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Shurtleff, daughter, Lee, son Don, Jr., and Buff are just home from Hackensack, Minn., where Mrs. Shurtleff, the children and Buff, spent most of the summer. They were joined there later in the summer by Mr. Shurtleff who accompanied his family home.

Parties Say 'Hello' and 'Goodbye'

To say goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weaver, who leave next Tuesday for a trip that will take them to Montreal, Quebec — to northern New York — to New York City and Washington D.C., Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelden Hallett were a dinner host and hostess at their home on Friday evening.

Among the guests invited for the farewell courtesy were Mr. and Mrs. George Samson of Omaha,

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver plan to be away at least three weeks and while in Washington will visit former Lincoln residents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Earle Vincent Johnson.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Park Manor neighbors corner the news market this Saturday morning and all of our items are concerned with the terrific influx and exodus of visitors and vacationing residents.

Birthday seems to have been the determining factor for residents taking trips this past week. Maj. and Mrs. Dale Samuelson, and their children, Jim, Gary, and Ricky, for example, motored to Wayne last weekend to visit Maj. Samuelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Samuelson, and be present when Maj. Samuelson's mother celebrated her birthday.

After the family returned home Sunday everything seemed to be going along as usual until Monday afternoon when five year old Ricky broke his foot. Now, Mrs. Samuelson assures us, life has become a bit hectic for her young son does not seem to enjoy the peace and quiet of a convalescing patient.

Visiting in Columbus last week was Mrs. William Cook and her son, Casey. Mrs. Cook and her son were the guests of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bordy and their children, Steve and Joe, and on Saturday Mr. Cook joined his family in Columbus for the combined birthday celebration of his wife and Mrs. Bordy.

Off to Wisconsin on Friday were M. Sgt. and Mrs. A. E. Bresette and their children, Ed and Diane. The Bresettes plan a week's vacation in Ladysmith where they will be visiting Sgt.

Bresette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bresette, and other friends.

In Omaha recently were Mrs. Ronald Olson and her children, Linda and Ronald Jr. The family had a five day visit with Mrs. Olson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Linson and other family members while Mr. Olson was in Minneapolis on a business trip.

Mention of the Olsons reminds us that they recently entertained out of town guests at their home. The visitors were Mr. Olson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Olson and their children, Barbie, Doug, and Dicky, of Osage, Ia.

A visitor at the home of Mrs. E. B. Stewart is her grandson, Dow Cessna of Muskogee, Okla. Last week Mrs. Stewart and Dow spent a few days at the ranch of Mrs. Stewart's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Micky Stewart and their children, Randy and Jay, near O'Neill.

Was Host At Luncheon

Gov. Victor Anderson was a luncheon host on Friday at the University Club when he entertained Gov. and Mrs. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma; Oklahoma's Adjutant General, Gen. Maurice Marrs and Mrs. Marrs, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foster, also of Oklahoma City.

Gov. and Mrs. Gary, the Marrs and the Fosters are en route to Montana where they will attend an Interstate meeting.

Gen. Marrs and Mr. and Mrs. Foster were not in the picture, and also missing was the attractive Mrs. Anderson who could not attend the luncheon because of the illness of the Andersons' son, Roger.

Evening Ceremony

A green and white motif, introduced with arrangements of white gladioli and greenery, and green and white candles, formed the background for the wedding of Miss Shirley Doeschot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Doeschot of Firth, and William L. Boettcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Boettcher of Lincoln which took place on Friday evening, Aug. 16, at the Pella Reformed Church in Adams. The Rev. Garrett Rezelman solemnized the 7 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Delmar Doeschot, organist. John Kroesg was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, Miss Arleen Doeschot, who was her sister's maid of honor; and bridesmaid, Miss Betty Doeschot, also a sister of the bride, wore alike frocks in the mint green tone. Each wore a white hair bandeau, and each carried a bouquet of white carnations. The candles were lighted by Billy Doeschot and Sharon Parker of Greeley, Colo.

Dale Boettcher of Lincoln served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Richard Boettcher and William Parker, both of Greeley, Colo.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace over white taffeta. Above the extremely bouffant ballerina skirt the long-sleeved bodice was snugly fitted and designed with a deep V neckline. A jeweled crown held to the head her waist-length veil, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with lavender orchids.

For the honeymoon trip to Colorado Mrs. Boettcher wore a black and white suit frock, with black accessories.

Mr. Boettcher, who is attending the University of Nebraska, and his bride will reside at 3027 So. 11th St.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Rowena Bengtson Nimocks and Dr. James Melvin Boykin, which took place Friday evening, Aug. 16, in the parlors of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, Calif. The 3 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Stephen H. Fritchman.

Attending the couple were Miss Willella Boykin, daughter of the bridegroom, and Stephen Nimocks and Martha Lee Nimocks, children of the bride.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip to Idylwild, Calif., Dr. and Mrs. Boykin will make their home in Lincoln where Dr. Boykin is manager of the Veterans Hospital.

Celebrates

Celebrating her eighth birthday on Saturday, Aug. 17, will be Miss Malla Sue Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tomlinson. To mark the occasion, Malla Sue entertained a group of 20 friends Friday afternoon at a swimming party held at East Hills.

WISHING WELL

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Stock Volume Is Lowest In Five Months

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced on average for the second straight day Friday but volume dwindled to the lowest level in five months.

Rails, aircrafts and oils carved out gains of fractions to a little more than $1. Most other divisions were irregular. Changes in major issues generally were under $2 in either direction.

Turnover of 1,470,000 shares compared with Thursday's 2,040,000 shares and was the smallest since 1,450,000 shares changed hands on March 18.

Brokers reported many investors were on the sidelines, waiting to see if the market really has reached a plateau after its one month slump. Volume also was depressed by the fact that many in the financial community left their offices early to enjoy an extended weekend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 30 cents at 87.30, with industrials up $1.10 and utilities unchanged. The American Stock Exchange was higher on balance on volume of 370,000 shares compared with Thursday's 880,000.

Hoffa Is Described For Probers As Originator Of Phantom Local System

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa, who seems headed for top command of the giant International Teamsters Union, was pictured in Senate testimony Friday as the originator of the phantom local system of winning union elections with the aid of racketeers.

The testimony came from Thomas Hickey, a general organizer and a vice president of the Teamsters International who said Hoffa forces already are moving in to throttle his union career.

Hickey said he will oppose Hoffa for the international presidency at the Teamsters' September convention, as an anti-corruption candidate.

Hickey told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that it was generally known that Hoffa and Johnny Dio, New York racketeer, were good friends.

"No End"

"Mr. Dio seemed to impress Mr. Hoffa no end," he said.

This was in connection with testimony by Hickey that Hoffa tried to persuade Teamsters president Dave Beck in 1953 to give Dio a union charter to organize the taxi drivers in New York City.

"I opposed Dio and Hoffa bitterly," Hickey recalled.

"I was opposed to issuing a charter to anybody of ill repute," he said at another point.

The testimony developed that Hickey's own local No. 807 was running a taxicab organizing drive at the time and that Dio was trying to undercut them.

Hickey said the situation was discussed at a meeting he had in New York with Beck, Hoffa and Dio. Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said George Meany, now AFL-CIO president, stepped in later and ordered Beck not to grant a charter to Dio. Meany then was head of the old ALF.

Ousted

Hickey was called after Martin T. Lacey, a gnarled and gray-haired veteran of the New York

Teamsters Union, told of being ousted from office last year in the aftermath of a gangster-rigged election.

With tears rolling down his leathery cheeks, Lacey told of appealing to Beck for help, but in vain. When Beck insisted that a group of union locals which the committee calls phony — having officers and a charter but no members — be allowed to vote, Lacey said he bowed out.

"That settled it," Lacey said, meaning he had given up his fight against the gangster-dominated phantom locals. He then stepped out as president of Teamsters Joint Council 16 and allowed a Hoffa-backed man, John J. O'Rourke, to take over the 125,000-member New York organization.

The 74-year-old Lacey's testimony won this accolade from committee chairman McClellan (D-Ark):

"In my book, you are a credit to the labor movement."

Wilber Man Suffers From Severe Burns

WILBER, Neb. — Steve Richtarik suffered severe burns on his leg and arm while attempting to extinguish a fire on his farm near here. Richtarik started the fire to burn out weeds in his pasture, but the fire got out of control.

The Wilber Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene.

Question Raised About Personal Road Interest

An eight-man Highway 29 delegation raised the question of a state highway commissioner's personal interest in a western Nebraska road matter during a meeting with Gov. Victor Anderson and State Engineer L. N. Rens Friday.

The road involved is a possible relocation of Highway 29 in Sioux County, and Mitchell banker J. L. Sandford asked, "Who would benefit by it but (commission member) Dr. C. R. Watson?"

Specifically, the group protested reported plans of the Highway Department to build a diagonal southeast of Agate 12 miles, to link with Highway 87. This diagonal would lead to abandonment of part of Highway 29.

declared, adding, "and I will abide by it."

'Disqualify Himself'

He suggested however, that Dr. Watson should "disqualify himself" from voting on this particular road.

Gov. Anderson said it has been his policy to accept the decisions of the commission because he could only "scratch the surface" in going out and getting facts on highway problems.

The governor said there was "no sense" in having a commission if its decisions were not followed.

Honorable Men

He told the group the Highway Commission members are "honorable men, just as you gentlemen are," and assured the delegation it would have a "fair hearing" when it takes the matter before the highway advisory group.

Rens told the group that no decision has been reached on the road relocation.

Harrison attorney W. E. Mumby headed the road delegation whose other members included Albert Lee, Earl Chry Jr., and Carl Thomas of Mitchell; Harold Skavdahl of Agate, and Everett Dennis of Scottsbluff.

Agate To Mitchell

Highway 29 runs from Agate south to Mitchell. Highway 87, which parallels it about seven miles away, leads to Scottsbluff.

Delegation members noted that Dr. Watson of Mitchell, owns ranch property southeast of Agate.

Gov. Anderson told the delegation that Dr. Watson "has never said a word to me about it."

The decision on the relocation matter "will be made by the Highway Commission," the governor

Retention Endorsed

Delegation members said the Scottsbluff Chamber of Commerce Thursday night had endorsed the retention of Highway 29.

They said Highways 87 and 29 do not serve the same purposes "and never will."

Rens told the group "you've been very fortunate in the last four years in Highway 29 improvements."

"Obviously," he added, not all the money for Panhandle road work can be plowed into Highway 29."

'Only State In Area Without Road Funds'

... Crosby

"Nebraska is the only state in this seven-state area without excess funds to match available federal road money," former Governor Robert Crosby declared Friday during a gas tax debate before the Lincoln Downtown Kiwanis Club.

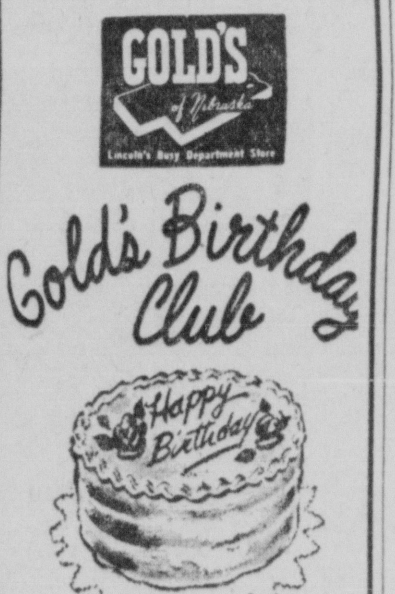

And he stated that unless the money is matched, "Nebraska's share of federal money will lapse to the other states."

Crosby's opponent in the debate was George Spidel of Lincoln, master of the Nebraska State Grange, one of the farm groups sponsoring a petition campaign against the added one cent of gas tax passed by the 1957 Legislature.

Spidel said it was difficult to compare highway programs from state to state, but suggested that highway expenditures "proportional to disposable income is the fairest criterion of comparative highway building effort among the states."

On this basis, Spidel said, Nebraska ranks midway among her neighboring states.

Crosby, secretary of the Better Nebraska Association which is leading the fight to keep the extra cent of gas tax, insisted that "Nebraska has in the past and continues to lag in highway program progress compared to other states."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO THE FOLLOWING MEMBERS WHO OBSERVED THEIR BIRTHDAYS THIS WEEK:

Corporations Must Pay Tax By Sept. 9 Or Be Dissolved

Delinquent corporation taxes due Sept. 9 could cause some 320 Nebraska corporations to be dissolved, unless the taxes are paid, the Secretary of State's office said Friday.

Normally the "due and delinquent date" is Sept. 8, Deputy Secretary Roland Luedtke explained. But since the date falls on a Sunday this year, the deadline will be continued to Monday.

Luedtke said failure to pay in the case of most corporations is due to an oversight, but his office will dissolve 278 domestic corporations and 42 foreign corporations if 1956 and 1957 corporation taxes are not paid.

The tax, based on the amount of paid up capital of the corporation, goes into the state's general fund.

Luedtke said if corporations now delinquent would pay back taxes and penalties, from $10,000 to $15,000 would be added to state funds.

Petition Filed For Land Section In Morrill County

Dan J. Bowman and Loren H. Bowman filed a petition with the State Supreme Court Friday in a case involving the rights to a Morrill County piece of farm land.

William J. McDermott instituted the action in the lower court, alleging he had title to the land by adverse possession.

The lower court ruled in favor of McDermott, whereupon the Bowmans appealed, alleging that the possession of the land was permissive rather than adverse.
